

ACCME and State Medical Licensing Boards Collaboration

Below are some screenshots showing the licensee and CME activity data state medical licensing board staff can view in ACCME's Program and Activity Reporting System (PARS). Only CME credit that has been verified by the accredited education provider is able to be entered, so all data is primary source. At the end of the document, you will find screenshots of ACCME's public CME search tool, CME Passport. Physicians can also create a CME Passport account to track the CME that has been reported for them by accredited education providers.

Search for all licensees in a given timeframe – a variety of search filters are available to pare down results as desired. Board staff have numerous sorting options and can download either a full list or the filtered list of licensee credit details.

CME Passport is an all-in-one, free, centralized web application that enables physicians to find, track, and review their accredited CME. Physicians can create a personalized account, enabling them to view their reported CME and MOC credits and generate transcripts for their state medical licensing board, certifying board, employer, or credentialing body.
